

Software installation guide.

Installation of software (exe file)

- Save the program to your computer
- Connect your HTC device to your computer with a data cable via Activesync or Windows Mobile Device Center (check in the user guide for further detail)
- Double-click the file to automatically install the software and update your handset
- Turn your device off and then on again to complete the procedure if necessary

Installation of a software (CAB file)

- Save the program to your computer
- Connect your HTC device to your computer with a data cable via Activesync or Windows Mobile Device Center (check in the user guide for further detail)
- Copy the file in the selected destination folder on your device
- Double-click the file on your device to automatically install the software and update your handset (to find the file, select Start > Programs > File Explorer on your device)
- Turn your device off and then on again to complete the procedure if necessary